A Great Parade.

City and country met on Jasper Avenue Monday to participate in and to watch the biggest and the most representative parade that ever wound its way through the streets of Edmonton.

Old-Timers and new-comers, native sons and migrants, past and present, the pioneer and tenderfoot, business firms and the individual carried tunes and music, blended in a procession worthy the place, the time and the circumstance.

Edmonton's fair got away to a start that could not have been better, in the fact that a parade

which visualized the conditions of life in the city that have gone and the days that are, condition which the fair has faithfully mirrored, and has also helped to transform, in the 46 years of its existence.

WHY PAY RENT

When You May Own A Home?

PAYING rent is like paying a high price for what must be only a temporary convenience. Owning your own home is receiving the high price and applying it against the purchase price. As your own landlord you pay rent to yourself.

THERE never was a more opportune time to build your own home in Edmonton and district than now. Land is cheap and is going to increase in price by leaps and bounds in the next few months. In the years to come it will be very valuable. Building materials and labor are cheap now. Build your cottage or bungalow—establish your future home now. The firms here will co-operate with you to the full with advice and assistance.

SMALL HOUSE NEEDN'T LOOK SMALL

SINCE one of the best ways to cut down expense in building a home is to make the outside dimensions of the house as small as possible, a number of builders sacrifice both appearance and convenience to their desire to gain compactness.

In this house, however, the designer has been able to steer clear of both dangers. As a result, here is a home that requires an excavation only 14 feet square, that contains six rooms and a bath, and that still looks spacious and comfortable, outside and in.

The New England doorway in the front alcove, with the graceful fan light above the door frame, lends dignity and charm to the house, and the comfortable vestibule and spacious living room add materially to the impression.

A glance at first floor plan shows the extreme convenience. There is no need to pass through either dining room or living room to reach the kitchen. The kitchen is large enough to escape that cramped feeling so many kitchens give, but small enough to save the housewife many steps. The living room has plenty of floor space and light.

Upstairs there are three good-sized bedrooms, a bath and plenty of closet space.

And yet it's truly a small house.

Complete plans and specifications for above building may be obtained by writing to the HOUSE PLAN EDITOR of the Edmonton Bulletin.

Should Children Urge Their Parents to Stop Work

While They Are Still Energetic? — The Modern

[illegible]

But if we have the courage to resist this, and force ourselves on a bit, we get what William James used to

[illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible]

Answer: I think your mother is exactly right to keep on with her own business and make her own living and maintain her own independence.

—MARGARET MURPHY

The two main parents give up work ten or fifteen years too soon and settle down on their children to be supported. Along in the fifties we all have a slump when we feel tired and tired, and so if we were done with life and just wanted to give up everything and fold our hands and sit in the corner and let somebody else take care of us until we died.

[illegible][illegible]

It is every daughter's duty to do her part in helping to take care of her parents when they are old and sick, but it is no part of her duty to sacrifice her own life to do so. It is a tragedy when a daughter sacrifices her life for her parents. And unless her father and mother are monstrously selfish, they do not deserve such a sacrifice.

It is often times when he holds the theory that every woman was pre-ordained a sacrifice in her family, we thought it proper for a boy to go to the front and fight for his country. He thought that he was doing his father and his mother's duty, even though he had to sacrifice her life. He thought that he was doing his mother's duty to make a career for herself in the outside world.

Nowadays we do things more fairly and recognize that there is no pre-ordained sacrifice in life. We know that every woman has to do her share in the family. We know that the girl has to make her own way in the world. We know that the girl who is old and poor should be helped, but she should not have to make a sacrifice to do so.

The net result is that the old people are better off in the long run, and the daughter is able to make a career for herself. She is not run down, discouraged, disappointed, balked old maid.

With Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior in the King government expected back in Edmonton today and with A. U. G. Bury, East Edmonton's Conservative member already here and getting his organization in shape, political circles are beginning to buzz with talk of election possibilities.

Peace River, is receiving more than 100 letters from the residents. Progressive member for that district arrived back in Edmonton on Monday night, and will be in the Waterhole today. Conservatives are talking of running Ex-governor R. B. Bennett for the seat in the Peace River, although other names will be brought out at the convention.

Executive to Meet

In Liberal circles the names of J. C. G. Fergusson, M. P., and Executive member, Captain J. C. Bowen and J. C. Hefferman, K. C. have been mentioned. It is believed that the residents there is a strong move to get the Hon. Mr. Hefferman, ex-mayor of Edmonton to take the seat.

A meeting of the Provincial Executive of the Liberal Party in Alberta has been called for Wednesday afternoon next, at 2 o'clock in the Macdonald Hotel, and it is expected that the Liberal organization will be under way immediately. Hon Charles Stewart, M. P., is expected to be present.

Senator W. A. Grimesback and other stalwarts of the Conservative party are expected to be present.

...and the worst and sharp campaign predicted from Eastern Canada quarters bids fail to be a reality as soon as the Edmonton Exhibition is out of the way.

Most Important Issue

Stanley G. Tisdale of Ladak, Liberal member for that riding in the parliament just dissolved, also returned to the city Sunday. Mr. Tobin says the most important issue in the campaign which arose at Ottawa is being keenly discussed in Eastern Canada, and it will play a large part in the campaign.

The Orangemen paraded to the church from the Market Square, where they formed at 7 p. m. Provincial Grand Master R. E. McKenney, District Master W. G. Walford, County Master Charles Bayle headed the parade. The parade was closely followed by Worthy Masters James Dawson of Norwood, Thomas H. Sawyer of Centre, J. B. Robertson of South Side, and W. P. Spence of the 114 street lodges.

In all, 12 lodges were represented including the women's associations, Western Rose and Lady of the East, and the following lodges: Lodge 1854, Lodge 2494, Lodge 2598 and Lodge 2273.

Dispute Over Key to Auto Believed Cause of Tragedy

CHINOOK, Alta., July 12.—A shooting tragedy occurred on a farm one mile east of here about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, as the result of which a woman is dead and a man in a critical condition, not expected to recover from injuries.

Frank Hicklin, whose wife died three months ago, returned to Chinook about a week ago, accompanied by a woman and her son. Hicklin and the woman were registered at the hotel as man and wife, and moved out to the farmer's farm a few days ago.

Monday, when Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Taylor and Mrs. Arnold Robinson, of Chinook, were passing the farm they were met by the boy, Vernon Fraser, who told them that his mother was being held in the barn, and that he had a gun with him. The party entered the barn and on arrival found the woman dead and the boy with her throat cut. An arrow was bleeding profusely from a deep wound in his throat.

IMPROVEMENT OF 127 STREET DECIDED UPON

Work Will Extend to 127th Avenue and East to Roundhouse

The gravelling of 127th street to 127th avenue and east to the roundhouse at 119th street, and also of 97th street from 119th avenue to 127th avenue, was decided on at the meeting of the city council on Monday night after long and stubborn argument which at times threatened to develop into personalities.

Adelation from the Alberta Automobile community league precipitated the issue by suggesting that the original intention of the city council to extend 127th street to 127th avenue be changed so that the street be extended to 127th street for the benefit of petitioners residing in the Alberta Automobile league. They are at present compelled to put in an extra two hours travelling to and from their work at Calder.

The request was opposed by the city engineer, who stated that 127th street was the logical route for a new highway, and that it would be a great deal easier to build a road by such a route, than it would be to build a road by the route suggested by the petitioners. He stated that the road by the route suggested by the petitioners would be a great deal more expensive to build, and that it would be a great deal more difficult to maintain.

After some discussion, Alderman East moved that the original suggestion of the petitioners be adopted, and that 127th street be extended to 127th avenue, and that 97th street be extended to 127th avenue. This motion was carried by a vote of 10 to 2.

Ald. Knott Also Holds Regulations Are Confusing to Car Drivers

Stop signs on city streets in accordance with the new traffic bylaws regulations are being criticised by Ald. Knott, who also holds that the regulations are confusing to car drivers. He said that the regulations were confusing to car drivers because they had to stop at every stop sign, and that they had to stop at every stop sign, and that they had to stop at every stop sign.

AGED MARE GALLOPS TO VICTORY IN FIFTH EVENT

Grandma Nell Too Good for Rest of Local Horses—Jockeys Petzolt and Farnsworth Have Successful Opening Day—Even Money Paid

By Ken McConnel

Customers picked up at the track of the Edmonton Exhibition two yesterday when, after a lull of nearly three months, the games once more came into their own again.

Grandma Nell was not unlike as it might have been. There was little chance of seeing the matchless leading and the young mare was as quick as a flash. She was not unlike as it might have been. There was little chance of seeing the matchless leading and the young mare was as quick as a flash.

GRANDMA NELL'S STRATEGY

The steps for her and her jockey, Grandpa Nell, were simple. They were to start the race and then to let the mare do her own thing. The jockey, Grandpa Nell, was a veteran and he knew the mare well. He knew her strengths and weaknesses. He knew her habits and her tricks. He knew her every move and he knew her every thought.

Little Race Game

The track was exceptionally fast for the opening race. The horses were in good form and the jockeys were in good luck. The race was a close one and it was not until the last few strides that the winner was clear.
